Archbishop Michael J. Curley was the consecrating prelate, and the coconsecrators were Bishop William J. Hafey. of Raleigh, and Bishop Thomas J. Toolen, of Mobile.

Hundreds in Colorful Procession.

A colorful procession of hundreds of seminarians and priests in black cassocks, white surplices and birettas, and monks in brown cowls opened the consecration ceremony, which continued for two and a half hours. This group, in double line, marched to the Cathedral gates from Calvert Hall College, a distance of about 200 feet. In their purple robes the monsignori and bishops, who had formed in line at the archbishop's residence, met the priests and the others at the gates.

The bishop-elect was accompanied by his two chaplains and former classmates at St. Mary's Seminary, the Rev. Robert J. Achstetter, pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, and the Rev. William A. Toolen, pastor of St. Edward's Church. He was followed by the coconsecrators and Archbishop Curley with his chaplains, the Very Rev. John F. Kanode told Dr. Aloysius Connolly, while the latter was treating him for a lacerated eye and severely bruised face at Emergency Hospital, he made a "buy" and furnished the evidence which led to a raid on an alleged bootleg establishment in the vicinity of the attack. He said he suspected the attack was a reprisal by the alleged liquor venders.

The informer told police that shortly before 9 o'clock an unidentified man called at his home and informed him that "Earl Harper" was waiting for him at Eleventh and H streets to discuss a "business matter." Arriving at the corner three "Earf Harpers" met him he said, and dragged him into the alley. A detailed description of the three men was furnished police.

The Stalker bill authorizes an appropriation of $300,000 for the purchase of a market must be moved to make way for the new Internal Revenue Building.

The fight against the bill at yesterday's meeting was led by Senator Bruce, of Maryland. He favored locating the market to a site north of Pennsylvania avenue, and he used all the arguments that have been used in the past against the Southwest site.

The police car was damaged slightly and was repaired the day after the collision, according to evidence introduced on Wednesday. The trial will be resumed next Tuesday.

The bill, already passed by the House, was approved by the Senate committee on a roll-call vote, 8 to 3. The Senate is expected to pass the measure and send it to the President in the near future.

Those who voted in favor of reporting out the Stalker bill yesterday were Senators Copeland (Democrat). Shortly after the Police Department "wreck wagon" had towed the machine to the west entrance of the courthouse an ambitious policeman from the Sixth Precinct started to "tag" the Cadillac for overtime parking. He soon found out his mistake and went away grinning.

The touring car is alleged to have crashed into a hose cart at the juncture of Bladensburg and Queen Chapel roads was standing on the rear platform of the cart, which was about to make a turn into Queen Chapel road, when the O'Donnell machine approached at a 65-mile speed. Behind the O'Donnell car was the police automobile driven by Policeman George C. Deyoe. Lieut. Gallahan was hurled from the cart and killed.

The great bulk of Washington's population is north of the Avenue, Bruce said, He also cited figures to show that a large majority of the farmers who sell at the market are from Maryland and are opposed to the Southwest site. Senator Glass, of Virginia, led the fight for favorable action on the bill. He pointed out that the market is primarily a wholesale enterprise. Southwest, he said, has all the facilities needed for such a market-railroad terminals, water terminals, cold storage plants and a municipal fish market. Virtually all of the Virginia farmers are in favor of the Southwest site.

'Bolshevik Highbrow Stuff' Assailed in Dispute With Norman Thomas.

Middletown. Conn., March 29 (A.P.).

A spirited clash on internationalism tonight marked the close of an exchange of views on war and peace by Real admiral Charles P. Plunkett, retired, and Norman Thomas. Socialist and pactifist, at Wesleyan University.

The speakers headed the evening program for the first day of a two-day parley on war arranged by an undergranduct committee of the university.

After a lively plea by Mr. Thomas for the awakening of international consciousness as a means for world harmony. Admiral Plunkett struck at what he termed, "This Bolshevik highbory stuff," and invited "those who are not satisfied with our country to go to another to live."

"Now I understand what I couldn't believe," the admiral sald, "that men are talking this doctrine of internationalism in our universities. I wouldn't have come here tonight if I had known I was going to run into an argument on this question."

Mr. Thomas assailed imperialism as the child born of marriage of capitalism and nationalism. He referred to the Nicaraguan situation by saying "Its includes the Nicaraguan war protruding from one hip pocket and a second labeled to the Nicaraguan war protruding from the other."

Omitting all reference to Gov. Al Smith of New York, whom he has attacked in the past, Robinson sought to show that the oil-leasing program had its origin with the Democratic administration of Woodrow Wilson, and emphasized that Edward L. #### Denials by Walsh.

Denials by Walsh.

"The President acted in the matter at the express direction of the Scnate," Walsh asserted, adding that the resolution to employ special counsel was adopted so as to take the cases out of the hands of the Department of Justice, then administered by Harry M. Daugherty.

Walsh vigorously challenged Robinson's statement that the oil prosecutor had had a large part in the passage of the act under which Albert B. Fall as Secretary of the Interior, leased the reserves to Doheny and Sinclair. He asserted the Indianan was confused; that the act he had pressed was the general leasing act, which had no relation to that under which Fall acted.

During his remarks, Senator Walsh introduced a letter from Gregory, who declared he never had been employed by Doheny and also read extensively from a speech made by the late Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, in which Danlels was highly praised as a faithful public official, who had carried on Son.

The denial was made after the former Secretary had read news dispatches quoting United States Senator Robinson's speech in the Senate.

"There is not a word of truth in the statement made by Senator Robinson (Republican), Indiana, that the Wilson administration ever contemplated leasing or did leasé a single aere of naval oil reserve except a few acres which experts reported must be leased or operated to prevent serious loss or drainage." said Mr. Daniels in a statement.

"The few acres leased by the Secretary of the Interior were all for the protection of the big naval reserve as a statement by Judge Barton Payne, the secretary, abundantly proved when the Fall scandal became a stench in the nostrils of the Nation.

"If the Wilson administration had suggested legislation," his statement concluded, "in order to lease Teapot Dome as the Indiana senator falsely charges it would have leased them. The fact that it did not lease them; declined to consider any application to do so as complete repudiation of the wild and absurd statement of the Indiana senator."

ANTIFREEZE MIXTURE OVER GERMANS' PLANE FRENCH ROYALIST GROUP

Keep Ice From Forming

Baldonnel, Irish Free State, March 29

This decision was announced at midnight.

The Bremen has been tugging at her anchor ropes on the Baldonnel Field, 8 miles west of Dublin, with restless impatience. Baron von Huenefeld, sponsor of the flight and one of the crew, is anxiously awaiting every message or telephone call which would be likely to bring news of improvement in the atmospheric conditions over the proposed route.

The gale and downpour of the morning subsided to a steady 15 to 20 mile westerly wind, into which Capt, Keeling and priests compromising with the new restrictions are subject to serious discipline.

Ing subsided to a steady 15 to 20 mile westerly wind, into which Capt. Koehl would have headed the Bremen if the Atlantic weather reports had justified it, at any hour. Mechanics worked most of the day grooming the machine, recoating its silvered duralumin allmetal body with a secret, antifreeze preparation, which Koehl hopes will prevent the sleet from forming and weighting the machine down.

A. Jackson Succeeds eighting the machine down. Capt. Koehl and Arthur Spindler, copriot and mechanic, tested the controls today and Von Huenefeld restocked the fuselage with hard-boiled eggs, bananas, a few ham sandwiches and a dozen freshly filled thermos bottles containing beef broth, which is the only drink aboard. The German nobleman also went to Dublin and bought himself a fresh collar, saying that he had not expected to stay in that neighborhood so long. His clothes were beginning to need a tailor's attention, but he felt he must make every effort to reach America spick and span in fresh linen.

At intervals, about every hour, after the downpour ceased Von Huenefeld or one of his party tramped the mile and a quarter runway to see how the wind was drying it. A steam roller was in use in an effort to pack the soggy turf, so that the Bremen might make a safe and sure get-away.

the voters of the State want to exercise their unquestioned right of registering approval for the dry cause.
But there is a world of difference, Mr. Jones believes, between affirmative action in favor of prohibition, and such action as would be certain to cause resentment by other States and would imply that the State of Texas, acting as host to the other 47 States, abrogates to itself the right to criticize, if not affront, the chosen representatives who come here in the bope of finding an atmosphere of justice and fair play as well as far-famed Southern hospitality. So Jones favors an uninstructed delegation so far as any and all candidates are concerned. vowing that if the country must have a Republican President the next four years he hopes it won't be Mr. Hoover. It is all because of the reception extended to him by Mr. Work when the colonel came here a couple of days ago with a delegation, and on a matter dear to the Texans' and Arkansans' heart. Senator Caraway, of Arkansans' hear ground that lies in the two States. The Department of Interior has been opposed to it.

Unprepared for Reception.

Col. Estes, it is understood, thought that Washington officials about this time of the season would be very affable men with so mony of them running for President, and so forth. Senators hitherto known as irascible are now the most agreeable of natures, it is pointed out, and other officials, while less talkative on some subjects than heretofore, are nevertheless althand.

So the colonel came with his deleting the design of the season would be very affable with the subject of the season would be very affable men with so mony of them running for President, and so forth. Senators hitherto known as irascible are now the most agreeable of natures, it is pointed out, and other officials, while less talkative on some subjects than heretofore, are nevertheless althand.

So the colonel came with his deleting the deleting the season would be the state convention.

Reed's headquarters are in charge of Cam M. Kay, a lawyer, who is a brother-in-law of former Senator Gore, of Oklahoma. W. R. Ashton, formerly of Kansas City, Mo., is secretary. Ashton has as City, Mo., is secretary. Ashton has city formished offices, plenty of Greed Iterature and s ways ready to extend a welcoming hand.

So the colonel came with his delegation to be each Mr. Hoover to get behind the national park project. As evidence of the hearty, jovial mood of the colonel, he bade Mr. Hoover come to the State and partake of its Southern hospitality.

But he was not prepared for the reception which Mr. Work is said have given him. It was described as exceedingly cook in the first instance, and exceedingly warm as the conference grew on. There came a time when the Secretary of the Interior is said to have declared with impatience that "I am tired of those people down there in Texas and Arkansas trying to run my department."

Strong Words Exchanged.

Strong Words Exchanged.

Then the amenities of the occasion extended until the so-called ugly word said to have been passed, at which juncture the colonel is said to have arisen and remarked that if there were not so much difference in age, the argunot so much difference in age, the argument would not be continued with mere words. With the passage of strong words, it seems, bells had been ringing in the department, and Arno B. Cammerer, assistant director of the park service, appeared. He is said to have sized up the situation at a giance and diplomatically escorted Col. Estes to more hospitable atmosphere.

Col. Estes is, of course, a Democrat, but he came to Washington with letters from Republican leaders of both States.

Now it would seem ridiculous to say that this incident will have any bearing on the presidential race, but those who know the instability of Southern Republicanism agree that it will have as much influence with the Republican delegates from the two States as Mr. Hoover's attitude on Mississippi flocd control, which is to say that the latter will have little, if any, but that the Estes incident, to repeat, will have as much.

Work Causes Speculation.

It is easily conceivable that Col Estes, a Democrat, will nevertheless give considerable aid and comfort with his militant journal to Representative Wurzbach. It is not at all unlikely that he has no small part of the Texas Republican party working on his plan-

Republican party working on his plantation.

Representative Wurzbach is said to be pursuing a most vulnerable line of attack, in fact, against R. B. Creager, now the State boss and committed to Hoover, in that he is going to insist that he know the time the Republican precinct conventions meet. Even if Col. Estes does no more than help him to find out, his assistance will be incalculable, it is said.

As to the colonel's influence in Alkansas, he should be able to fan the flames in that group of Republicans who already think that some other than Mr. Hoover should be chosen to run the country because a Democrat got the Federal judgeship plum.

Just why Mr. Work indulged himself in this manner is a matter of considerable speculation at the Capitol. It is recalled that four years ago a fight on a golf course had to do with checking a man's political destiny.

WILLIS ASSAILS HOOVER ON LAKE-LEVEL POLICY

Senator Invades Toledo, the Home of W. F. Brown, Backing Secretary.

CHICAGO PLAN CRITICIZED

Toledo, Ohio, March 29 (A.P.).— Carrying his presidential campaign into the precincts of Walter F. Brown, cam-paign strategist for Secretary Herbert Hoover, his chief Ohio opponent, Sena-for Frank B. Willis tonight painted a glowing picture of what might be ex-pected to this Great Lakes port if the Chicago water diversion project is de-cented and the St. Lawrence deep water-way becomes a reality.

Reated and the St. Lawrence deep waterway becomes a reality.

"No city in the United States has a more abiding interest in the maintenance of lake levels than the city of Toledo and environs." Senator Willis declared, citing his own efforts to defeat the Chicago water diversion project as a contrast with the alleged attitude of Secretary Hoover, whom he accused of favoring the Chicago plan.

Urging construction of the St. Lawrence could be continuation of the industrial growth of Toledo that it have a direct outlet to the sea. The St. Lawrence route is the only psacticable and economical one.

"If we shall not spoil the project by adopting false policies or by electing to office men that are hostile to the maintenance of lake levels, there are many in this audience who will live to see the time when great ocean steamships will anchor at, the wharves at Toledo, discharging passengers and cargo and taking on board tourists bound for Europe and products of field, farm and factory from northwestern Ohio.

"It is idle, however, to talk about a St. Lawrence deep waterway, unless we respect the rights of Canada, our friendly neighbor. According to international law, as well as in harmony with treaties already made, Canada has the same right to the waters of the Great Lakes that the United States has. No final agreement can be entered into with Canada, unless Canada's rights are fully recognized. The St. Lawrence deep waterway project and the diversion problem at Chicago are linked together. We shall never have our deep waterway to the sea until the Chicago diversion problem is solved equitably, justly and in accordance with treaty rights."

CEVEN years ago, The Grand Palace was established to give the utmost in while-u-wait valet service to downtown business people. Prompt service, polite attendants and comfortable surroundings have made it a popular rendezvous for well-groomed men and women.

Our new shop, which we cordially invite you to visit today, is as pleasing and attractive as modern decorative skill can make it—in conformity to the tastes of our patrons.

The increasing popularity of The Grand Palace is interesting evidence of the advent of democracy in dress. Not so long ago, many men emphasized their importance by their conspicuous dress. Now every man of good taste strives to be inconspicuous by appearing neat and well-

Business and military leaders nowadays appreciate the importance of neatness in each individual under their direction. Only recently one of our most prominent generals complained that the slovenly appearance of the Army uniform was seriously menacing the morale of the American doughboy. In the World War, the Marines, the French Chausseurs Alpins and the Prussian Guard, all of whom were excellent "shock troops," were noted even on the battlefield for their neat uniforms and careful grooming.

So the desire for good personal appearance, commended by intelligent opinion and manifested by our patrons, has dictated the establishment of this new and larger valet shop. On this occasion we cordially thank our customers for their loyal support.

SMALLER CUT IN TAXES POSSIBLE, SAYS MILLS

Increased Appropriations in New Legislation Blamed by Undersecretary.

Chicago, March 29 (A.P.) .- Estimat ng a surplus of approximately $215,-000,000 for the fiscal year 1929. Under-

000,000 for the fiscal year 1929, Undersecretary Ogden L. Mills of the Treasury advocated today before the Chicago and Cook County Bankers Association a "substantial" tax reduction, but declared the original recommendation of the Treasury for a $225,000,000 cut should be shaded.

While declaring the Treasury estimates of receipts were "extraordinarily accurate," the Undersecretary said modification of the figures was made necessary because the Treasury had made no allowance for increased appropriations due to new legislation.

From a Treasury standpoint, he said, it is a wise course to proceed for tax purposes "on the assumption that the prosperity of 1928 will about equal that of 1926 and 1927."

The new surplus estimate is $37,000.

One of the key lines of industry watched by the department observers.

Mr. Hoover added, is the production of machine tools. Equipment of this description is being more eagerly sought now than for months, and the output is increasing in response to the cal-of industry generally for more equipment and greater production.

Further, the total of construction projects now under way in the United States is represented as about 13 or 14 per cent higher than that one year ago. There will be an indirect induence from undertakings of this character, the Secretary predicted, working to stimulate other activity in trade and commerce.

Meantime, there were indications that some of the members of Lehlbach's committee are getting impatient. Representative Woodrum (Democrat), of Virginia, for example, yesterday suggested a plan that might make a long drawn-out study by the committee unnecessary.

JUGGLING WITH FARM RELIEF.

The major bit of political juggling is to be engaged in as soon as the agricultural appropriation bill has been disposed of by the Senate. Leaders of that body have given next place on the calendar to the McNary-Haugen bill, a measure conceived to do almost everything but what it pretends to accomplishaid the farmer. It will elect some congressmen and defeat others. It is expected to further the political ambittons of some presidential candidates and embarrass the campaigns of others. It is designed to raid the Treasury and to violate the Constitution. Most of all it is likely to comfort the Demo-

Although some Republican leaders in Congress profess to see in the measure many virtues, they all close their eyes to the fact that any issue that serves to divide their party is bound to benefit the Democrats. The minority leaders have been acute enough to recognize this fact. No wonder they are willing to push the McNary-Haugen bill through to a presidential veto. They can not help but profit by factional strife among the Republicans, and anything else that the McNary-Haugen bill can bring to the majority party is hard to see.

Proponents of the measure continue to pretend that the measure has been so amended that it need not be objectionable to President Coolidge. "Everything controversial but the equalization fee has been eliminated." they say. They might as well say that a man is in perfect health because everything but his heart is sound. The equalization fee is just as unconstitutional, impractical and uneconomic today as it was when Mr. Coolidge so charac terized it a little over a year ago. It is just as certain to be used if the present bill becomes a law as was the case in the former bill when its imposition was made mandatory. The farmers' cooperatives, which in the present bill are to be used before the equalization fee is put into practice, include only a minority of all the farmers. The surplus can not be controlled-and that, too, is still the purpose of the bill-without putting pressure upon all farmers. That is what the equalization fee is in the bill for, to be used as a club against those farmers not now affiliated with the cooperatives.

Fortunately there is no indication that the measure can become law. The Republicans who are supporting it know that. They should realize that they are creating bitterness and dissension in their own party by refusing to frame a real farm relief measure. The wider the Republican split becomes over the farm problem the better the prospects of the minority party in the presidential campaign. No Democrat should have any difficulty in turning agrarian in such circumstances.

USES OF ROYALTY.

Many Americans have the habit of speaking disparagingly of royalty and of what they regard as its futility and out-of-dateness; and, as an abstract principle, much, doubtless, might be said in favor of that attitude. Still. it must be conceded that those peoples who have clung on to their emperors, kings and princes must be allowed to know what they are about and to see good reasons for the preservation of ancient monarchies and everything they imply. There is no doubt that the present Prince of Wales, for example, is a valuable asset to the British Empire, as was his grandfather before him when he had the same title. The appointment of the prince by his father, King George V, to even a purely honorary position, such as Master of the Merchant Navy and Fishing Fleet, the title to which he was gazetted a few weeks ago, has already had a wonderful and largely unlooked-for effect. At the annual dinner of the British Chamber of Shipping the president of that body, welcoming the prince in his new role, appealed to the youth of the country to "come into the British shipping industry with their enthusiasm and courage." The result of that appeal and of the glamour attaching to the prince's headship of the merchant marine, nominal though that headship be, has been to attract so great a rush of applications from young men eager to join the service that the appointment bureau of the Chamber of Shipping has been swamped and it has been found necessary to draw up a waiting list. Another way in which the prince's appointment worked was to elicit from parents a deluge of letters asking the procedure to be adopted in order to place their sons in the mercantile marine.

There is no doubt that the mastership to which the Prince of Wales has been appointed, and which he accepted amid much eclat, will render still more strenuous an already very strenuous life, for there are hundreds of bodies and associations connected with the British merchant marine and fishing fleet, and many, if not most, of these will invite the new master to their annual dinners and expect him to attend. The prospect is sufficiently appalling, but so far the Prince of Wales has spirit and to discharge them with light and pervasive humor, but with great efficiency; and there is no reason to suppose that he will at all shirk his new obligations.

THE SENATE AND THE DISTRICT.

Senator Phipps, of Colorado, has summed up in unanswerable fashion the facts upon which he bases a plea for observance of the law providing for equitable division of the burden of financing the District of Columbia. In his speech in the Senate on Wednesday Senator Phipps denounced the plan adopted during the last few years, whereby the Federal Government pays only $9,000,000 a year toward the upkeep of the District government. "This plan," says Senator Phipps, "is unsound in principle, vicious in actual practice, a deadly poison in the vitals of city government and has proved a curse to the people of Washington and to the people of the Nation.'

The tax paid by property owners in the District of Columbia is as heavy as that paid In other cities, and greater than the tax paid in most cities and towns. But the service rendered by the municipal government is much worse in Washington. Children are deprived of their right to comfortable schooling. The streets are not in as good repair as in other cities and are not as well lighted. Traffic signal lighting is only partly installed. Outlying districts are retarded in growth by the slowness and inadequacy of light, water and

The standing law provides that the Federal Government shall pay 40 per cent of the cost of the District Government. This law is set aside by Congress at the behest of a coterie of small-town politicians who hold key positions in the House. These men, who would be beyond their depth at a council meeting in a town of 4,000 people, are trying to prove to their backwoods constituents that they are devoted to "economy" in dealing with the National Capital. Really competent members of Congress have been indifferent to this matter and have not made a fight for the proper government and development of Washington. Senator Phipps is one of the few exceptions to this rule. As chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the District bill he has made a thorough study of local conditions and is perhaps the best informed man in this particular in either branch of Congress.

The Senate can put a stop to the process that is throttling the growth of Washington. Let it insert the provision of existing law, and strike out the lump sum provision, and then insist upon its amendment in conference. There is no occasion for lengthy arguments to establish the justice of the proportionate system. The more the subject is studied the clearer it will appear that the Federal Government is getting off very easily when it contributes only 40 per cent. It should pay onehalf of the cost of local government. When it is made to pay only $9,000,000 a year toward a budget of $40,000,000 the result is that individual taxpayers are robbed and the local government deprived of sufficient funds to provide for natural growth.

If the National Capital is to develop normally, in harmony with the growth of the Nation. Congress must shake off the grip of the pinheads in the House who are abusing the power that is accidentally in their hands.

CAMPAIGN FUND LEGISLATION

One of the pioneers in the movement to compel publicity of party campaign fund expenditures is Perry Belmont. As a member of the National Publicity Bill Association he was active in framing the bill and carrying to a successful conclusion the movement for the enactment of the campaign publicity laws, both Federal and State. Such legislation even today is not to be found outside the United States, except in Cuba, where there is a law modeled upon this country's. Mr. Belmont has recently addressed a letter to Senator Swanson, of Virginia, having to do further with the matter of publicity of party campaign funds. 'The abolition by Federal and State laws of the secrecy of party funds," he says, "is an accomplished fact, but in order that the country should maintain its preeminent standard a vigilant enforcement of the law must be demanded and seems to be insisted upon by pub-

The difficulties encountered in the original movement to abolish secrecy of campaign funds were many. Mr: Belmont recalls that in order to secure attention to the bill the Democrats, then the majority party, were forced to resort to a filibuster. Today indifference or opposition toward a movement to amend the law, he says, undoubtedly exists on the part of many of the leading organization Republicans, both in and out of Congress. It will be no easy matter to amend the law, yet in view of the opposition that was overcome in securing its original passage, amendment is not impossible. Limitation and publicity of campaign expenditures are, of course, separate matters. Senator Capper recently suggested that a limit should be placed upon campaign expenditures. Such legislation would form part of the exist ing corrupt practices act. Mr. Belmont believes that the Capper suggestion is excellent. but thinks that there should be incorporated in the existing law "a provision under which any ten qualified voters could, during the progress of a presidential campaign, apply to a standing committee or joint committee of the Senate and House, if upon sufficient evidence they have reason to believe that the publicity law is not being complied with, the Senate and House having complete jurisdiction over the counting of electoral votes." Such an amendment might promote the vigorous enforcement of the law under which the honesty of elections is safeguarded.

ROPER'S FANTASTIC PROPOSAL.

Democratic strategy designed to head off the strength developed by Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York in the preconvention campaign has taken many forms, but none stranger than the suggestion made by Daniel C. Roper seeking to pledge the Democratic party to amendment or repeal of the prohibition laws eight years hence, if its members will agree to throw Gov. Smith overboard this year. The former McAdoo lieutenant is enlisted this year under the banner of Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, but even that does not account in full for the proposal which he has made to wet Democrats throughout the country.

The plan in substance is that the Houston convention shall nominate a dry Democrat. and appeal to the country to give that leader and his followers eight years in which to demonstrate that they can enforce the Volstead act more successfully than the Republicans thown an aptitude to take such tasks in good have done. "If we are not more successful at enforcement than the Republicans have been in the last eight years," Mr. Roper says, "we will then join in seeking the amendment or repeal of the law."

There are at least three fallacies in the plan which Mr. Roper has put forward. The first is that Gov. Smith can be sidetracked; the second is that the Democrats can get and stay in office for eight years on any such platform, and the third is the supposition that the country will take seriously any pledge on the part of the Democrats to do in eight years what they do not appear to be willing to do

It is impossible to see how the Roper plan can have any appeal except in that element of the party that is already out to beat Gov. Smith by whatever means it can. Supporters of Gov. Smith certainly will find nothing at tractive in any such proposal, for, no matter what may be said to the contrary, the Smith candidacy is not based solely on the known objection of the New York chief executive to the prohibition law. Those of Gov. Smith's friends who would abandon him now in the hope of gaining support for the wet cause in 1936 constitute a negligible quantity in the Democratic party. The inner realization that Gov. Smith's nomination is almost inescapable may be responsible for the fanciful plan that Mr. Roper has sponsored.

JUSTICE GORDON.

The Senate yesterday confirmed the nomination of Maj. Peyton Gordon as an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. The vote was taken in executive session and was reported to be unanimous. Thus the Senate wisely gave its indorsement to the President's excellent and popular appointment.

Well versed in the law and of judicial tem perament, Maj. Gordon is ably equipped for the important duties he is about to assume. Maj. Gordon has enjoyed a long and distinguished career at the bar and goes on the bench with the best wishes of a host of friends. Washington is well pleased with its new judge, Mr. Justice Gordon.

ABOLISH THE TARIFF COMMISSION.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, does not go quite far enough in his demand for a repeal of the flexible tariff provisions. He criticizes the Tariff Commission, it is true, but he makes no outright demand for its abolition. Yet, if the auxiliary features of the American tariff policy are to be assailed, the Tariff Commission should be the first to be attacked. It may be because the Tariff Commission was a Democratic idea that Senator Robinson treated it more gently than he did the flexible provisions of the tariff act. Its parentage, nevertheless, is no recommendation. It has failed to demonstrate its utility either in theory or in

The question of tariff rates is not one that can be turned over to an independent establishment of the Government. It is a fallacy to contend that the tariff can be made matter of "scientific" adjustment. The tariff is a matter of policy. It is, therefore, a thing that should be left entirely in the hands of the President and Congress. The conomic consequences of tariff changes are secondary in importance to the tariff as a national political policy. The party that happens to be in power should always exercise absolute control over tariff policy and tariff changes.

It would be far better for Senator Robinson and his Democratic colleagues to acknowledge that the idea of a tariff commission was wrong in its conception than to blame it now because it has failed to fulfill the functions which its reators expected of it.

THE M STREET BRIDGE.

The bill appropriating funds for construcion of a new bridge in M street over Rock Creek specifies that the structure shall be of the steel girder type. Designs for such a structure have been completed, and, in accordance with provisions of the bill, have been submitted to the Commission of Fine Arts. which has refused to approve them on the grounds that a steel girder structure would be a "perpetual eyesore." The commission suggests that the bridge be of the masonry arch type.

The old M Street Bridge has been missed sadly since it was closed to traffic several years ago. M street is one of the main east and west arteries. The Pennsylvania Avenue Bridge is not a great distance below, and the P street structure is only two blocks above but in either case traffic on M street must make an awkward detour. The M Street Bridge is badly needed and the work should be started as soon as possible, notwithstanding the criticism of the Fine Arts Commission.

BASEBALL IN COLLEGE.

Arthur Fox, coach of the Williams College Baseball Team, deplores the growing lack of interest in baseball. He contends that the game has gone into a serious decline. College boys, he says, know less about the national pastime each year, and must now be taught the fundamentals, whereas ten years ago practically every boy in the country was familiar with the game, and most of them played it. Coach Fox is so positive in his statement that it demands consideration.

He does not raise a question as to a possible decline in interest in professional baseball. If he had it could easily be refuted, for attendance at league games has remained at satisfactory levels. Semipro outfits also have increased. Today there are more semipro leagues functioning than ever before.

In some respects baseball has succumbed to the lure of other sports, such as golf, which require fewer than eighteen players and which can be played without previously arranged schedule. Young Americans frequently play baseball in addition to some other sport.

College men are not exhibiting the interes in baseball that they once did. Played at the tag end of the scholastic year, when spring is in the air and final examinations lurk just around the corner, with only a few men in action at a time instead of 22 sweating, strainaction at time instead of 22 sweating, strainaction at time instead of 22 sweating, strainaction at a time instead of 22 sweating, strainaction at time instead of 22 sweating, strainaction at time instead of 22 sweating str in baseball that they once did. The Borah Pious Fund. To the Editor of The Post-Sir: To ny mind the effort of Senator Borah to raise by popular subscription a fund to restore to Sinclair the amount he gave is not only idle, but foolish, the main object being to keep the Idaho senator in the Emelight. deep. In the old days when politics was much cleaner than today it was regarded as a very dishonorable act for a man to hold a seat in convention and then bolt the choice of the convention if that body saw, fit to exercise its ights and nominate a man by a majority vote. If Senator Blaine does not intend to support the convention nominee, no matter whom it might be, he has no moral or political right to take part in the convention. Bolting the nomines has no place in honest politics. Parties are necesary to our form of government and the majority in the party ought to rule, no matter what private desires may be. Those calling themselves "progressives" are party men only when the ressives" are party men only when the party decides their way. They are really sarty traitors, and once exposed they should be excluded from party councils, lust as a gentlemen's club would expelorawlers and chronic kickers.

THE SPOTLIGHT

By JOHN J. DALY

Lynn Farnol, the publicity expert. long-distancing from New York, just wants to let Washington know that the all-star cast in "She Stoops to Conquer" is having a merry time of it on the road after the grand send-off here. It seems that Washington takes kindly to all-star casts, and revivals, and such like, so next season Mr. George Tyler. the producer, is going to send down a whole flock of them.

the producer, is going to send down a whole flock of them.

Clifford Brooke, director of the National Theater Players, recently through here with the all-star cast in "Within the Law," a revival he directed, has taken under his wing a young Washington girl, Miss Eleanor Hawks, aspirant for stage honors. She played here in Barker Hall, not so long ago, in a play she directed herself, in which she had the lead role, and in which she scored quite a success. "She is a pretty child," writes Clifford Brooke, "and will adorn the American stage when the time comes for her professional debut."

SENATE TO CONSIDER RADIO NOMINATIONS

Names of Caldwell, Pickard and LaFount Before Executive Session Today.

(Associated Press.)

Meeting behind closed doors the Senate today will plunge into the battle over the confirmation of three members of the Radio Commission—O. H. Caldwell, of New York; Sam Pickard, of Kansas, and Harold A. LaFount, of Utah.

recently passed to extend the life of the commission for one year and to ring about a more equitable distribution of station power.

Pickard's nomination is opposed on the ground that he is not a bona fide resident of Kansas and that he likewise is not a Democrat, although appointed as such. Another nomination to membership on the commission was sent to the Senate yesterday by President Coolidge, that of Ira E. Robinson, of West Virginia. He would succeed W. H. G. Bullard, who died recently.

Lecture at City Club.

George T. Oettle, author, lecturer and globe trotter, will deliver an illustrated Taidwell, of New York; Sam Pickard, of Kansas, and Harold A. LaFount, of Utah.

Opposition has been raised to all of the appointments, but fire is centered particularly on Caldwell because of his activities in opposing parts of the bill secretary of the club, states.

Walter Hampden has not been in Washington since he played the Rostand comedy at Poli's, some three seasons ago, as time files. In New York his dramatic version of Browning's poen "The Ring and the Book," played under the title "Caponsacchi," was one of the finest bits of dramaturgy produced last season. If he plays no other work here, his Washington invasion may very fittingly be pronounced "a dramatic festival." So, with Shakespeare and Ibsen thrown in for good luck, the week of April 30 looks propitious. That undoubtedly is the word.

- LIFE INSURANCE-

The modern method of writing LIFE INSURANCE consists of making a special study of the particular case, the purpose for which the policy is required, and the coordination of new policies with other life insurance carried.

We are equipped to render efficient life insurance service. Consult us of course there will be no charge for our services in this regard.

Use and Occupancy Insurance—

Do you fully understand its scope and why YOU SHOULD CARRY IT?

-Personal Effects Insurance-

Contrary to general belief, this insurance is inexpensive and our policy WILL fully PROTECT your PERSONAL EFFECTS against practically all hazards ANYWHERE except in your own residence. May we discuss this with you?

-ALL RISK INSURANCE-JEWELRY AND FURS

Due to the companies we represent, we are now able to eliminate much delay incident to settlements under this form of insurance.

The first thing usually examined is the insurance policies which covered the property, to determine if everything was properly protected. Why not EXAMININE YOUR POLICIES NOW and be certain everything is properly insured. Can We Assist You?

When I was a professor of Columbia University I took great delight in reading this ode to the students of vocational education. The sauthor was then a very charming and popular professor of English. He is now better known to my readers as the author of "Helen of Troy." "Adam and Eve" and "Sir Galahad." The ode itself is a clever bit of "slamming" at utilitarian studies.

1. What word or expression may be said in place of "boy friend," or "beau," or "sweetheart." where it is not convenient or clear to refer to the person by name?"

Answer: "Boy friend" is a general public word, but not a smart one. "Beau" is an old-fashioned, and never was, I fancy, in the best usage. "Sweetheart" is a charming word but too intimate for the outside world. I think if I were referring to a young man who was, or might be, engaged to me, I should speak of him to my friends by his Christian name. If it were necessary to mention him to acquaintances in such a way that they would recognize our relation, I should call him my flance (if he was), or my best friend (if he was), or just a great friend of mine.

From your general description I take it that you are inclined to be too thin. to that you are inclined to be too thin. It is very necessary for you to have nine or ten hours sleep every night and to eat simple, wholesome and nourishing foods. Mild exercise may be done indoors, but it has greater building qualities when done in the fresh air. There are no exercises that will make the face stouter. However, a good nutrient cream might be applied in a thin film on the skin and be permitted to remain on over night. The neck may be massaged with cocoanut butter every night. Exercises such as nodding the head forward and rotating it slowly in a complete circle, or shrugging the shoulders to bring them as close to the tip of the ears as possible, will help to develop pleasing contours in the neck.

RIDAY—with its usual burst of activities—has arrived, and, although I may seem to plan rather badly, I am going to make use of a MENU FOR SUNDAY gelatin dish again tonight in spite of the fact that last night we had a jellied chicken dish. Gelatin, as a food, the fact that last night we had a jelled chicken dish. Gelatin, as a food, as we all well know, could hardly be dispensed with. It is nutritious as well as a means of ingenuity in food preparation. It has a definite appeal, and unusual things of all sorts may be made with its aid, and it is probably the best carrier of foods of all assortments that we have. As we know, we can go from meat, through the vegetables and fruits, even into the soup realm, with the aid of gelatin, to make aspic dishes. Therefore, if I freely suggest gelatin as an aid in cookery, do not be surprised. Like baking powder, tomato soup, sugar, sait and the dairy products, it is almost indispensable. Then, tonight, we shall have vegetables in jelly, and with them creamed eggs with cheese, brown muffins, sliced oranges with coconut, a bit of the chocolate cake, if any remains, and tea. This gives us a menu, although it is not in menu form, for this evening. Here are tomorrow and Sunday's menus and the recipes shall follow tomorrow:

Stuffed Peppers with Sausage Moided Spinach Mashed Potatoes

Cheese Cake Coffee

Now, for Sunday, do let's be extravagant and speak in a firm tone of a crown roast of lamb, or if we just fail to feel sufficiently firm about a crown roast, at its particular price.

The previous winter I had great difficulty in keeping warm. Under this soup diet this disturbance has disappeared. I now require no more cover on my bed in winter than does any one else.

Foreign, working people are very strong. They are accustomed, I understand, to eating one piece dishes, everything except the bread being cooked in one vessel. But the Danes gained something from their black bread and cabage soup which they did not get from their more liberal diet. I have always used cabbage as a base because it is always available, it is economical, and the work of preparation is slight. I use the commented on the possibility of the proper commented on the possibility of the commented of the commented on the possibility of the commented of the co

A movie celebrity, returning from Europe, commented on the possibility of getting a good meal in every small town. Did he get steaks, chops, roasts? I think not, but meats cooked in moist heat, with abundant vegetable seasonings, over a small fire. Fuel is expensive there, but cheap here. CONSTIPATED INFANT.

The previous winter I had great difficulty in keeping warm. Under this soup diet this disturbance has disappeared. I now require no more cover on my bed in winter than does any one else.

A young girl, often sent by her employers to throat and lung specialists, found herself entirely relieved from a constant succession of severe colds after she came to live with me.

And now, what change in the diet in our home has accomplished all this?

In June, 1926, when my time and energy were both limited, you published another article on the Danish warting to do not read to the present time. The only way I can make his bowels move is to use suppositories.

When an initial bidder opens the auction by bidding two of a Major suit he is authorizing a jurup with slightly less jumping strength than would have been required if the initial bid had been only one. The 'wo main requisites for jumps from one to two are normal support in the suit itself, and high-card strength consisting of two Aces or the equivalent.

It will pay Contract players to study and grasp the fact that a jumping decision is based on two elements and one principle. The principle is that the partner of the initial bidder (if he has jumping strength) should jump as high as his strength warrants: the two elements to be reckoned with are (a) the jumper's strength and (b) the size of the original bid. Element (a) can not be rightly appraised unless element (b) is taken into consideration.

VII. The age of great railroad construc-tion and expansion bas long since passed. Yet, today, there is developing a situation, which, in the magnitude of its probable re-nitude of its probable re-sults is likely to far out-shine many well-known undertakings of the past.

Moffat Tunnel was com-pleted and formally placed in operation. The difficul-ties encountered in financ-ing and building this bore through the mountains have been so great, that not until we analyze all the possible benefits to be derived, can we fully appreciate this situation.

we fully appreciate this situation.

Denver, although by furthe largest city in the Rocky the largest city in the Rocky Mountain District, has never been on the main lines of a transcontinental railroad system. The Overland route, over one hundred miles to the north, or the lito Grandefar io the south—hoth shun Denver. Today this situation is entirely changed. Whereas in the past, four locomotives struggled tor 16 hours taking an ordinary freight train over the Divide on the Denver & Salt Lake,

By use of this tunnel and a proposed forty-fwo mile beying of bonds today followed a statevent by Secretary Mellon that the current outward movement of gold is not likely to have any material effect on money conditions. Although time money and bankers' acceptances stiffened, many of the leading mortgages showed pronounced strength, while the entire domestic list, with the exception of some of the high-grade rail liens, foilowed a firm course.

Doubtless there was some further switching of funds from the stock market, while the reinvestment buying, which has been slow in developing this year, probably derived stimulation from the Mellon prediction. Some issues per buoyant for special reasons, and others reflected the improvement of stocks into which they are convertible.
Interborough Rapid Transit mortgages mounted rapidly in new high tertitory on a concrete movement by the city to recapture the lines. Other New York traction issues gained ground in sympathy, Brooklyn Union Oas 5½s.
Andes Copper 7s. Anaconda Copper 7s.
Liquid Carbonic Se and Pathe Exchange
Ts scored gains of 1 to 2 points, foilowing the strength of their related stocks.

Oil issues again responded to the seteliement of the Mexican petroleum dislowing the strength of their related stocks.

Oli issues again responded to the settlement of the Mexican petroleum dispute, Sinciair 7s reaching new high ground and Simms 6s gaining a point, Mexican government issues were buoyant probably for the same reason.

The new St. Paul izsues continued to tread the rails, both of them making new highs on a large volume of sales. Minneapolis & St. Louis 6s advanced 134 to 1444, a new year's high, and a few other low-priced liens were moderately active.

Some Scandinavian issues gained favor in the foreign group, Copenhagen 5s selling at 97% for the first time this year, and some of the French industrials continued firm. A few of the French government obligations, however, declined on a profit taking.

The United States Government issues again were quiet.

Associated Gas and Electric System

Objects of Refinancing

Two years ago the management of the Associated System inaugurated an extensive program of refinancing which contemplated:

- Retirement of outstanding high coupon bonds and high dividend rate preferred stocks of subsidiary properties.
- Issuance in exchange therefor of Associated System securities which, as the obligations of a larger and financially stronger organization, bear lower interest rates.

To date, over $70,000,000 par value of underlying securities have been retired. This has brought about substantial savings in interest charges, and a simplification of capital structure through consolidation of numerous debt issues into major obligations of the Associated System.

Many mortgage issues are now being called for redemption. The amount remaining in the Associated System is less than 12% of the entire capitalization. Many properties are entirely free of debt.

Refinancing already accomplished has brought certain definite results:

- The credit standing of the Associated System has been so improved that recent financing has been done with 4 1/2 % bonds as against 5 1/2 % bonds a year ago.
- 2. The elimination of underlying securities has brought the bonds, preferred and common stocks of the Associated Gas & Electric Company close to the actual physical properties so that they receive more directly all income from operations.

The Associated Gas & Electric Company is now offering to stockholders the right to subscribe to a new issue of $50,000,000 4½% Debentures convertible into Class A and common stock. The proceeds of this financing will be used largely for further retirement of underlying and higher coupon issues, which, to the extent that such retirements are effected, will still further strengthen the credit of the Company and enhance the investment position and earning power of its preferred, Class A and common stocks.

Johnson on Way Here; May Enter Hospital

Special to The Washington Post. Jacksonville, Fla., March 29.—Wal-ter Johnson, who has been suffering from a relapse following a flu at-tack and who has been trying to recuperate at the Riverside Hospital here, left for Washington tonight in the care of Dr. Harry M. Kaufman, who has been spending his vacation at the Nats' at Tampa. When seen at the hospital this morning, John-son was still in bed, but was in exceptionally good spirits and much interested in the Nats' prospects. Just why he has failed to respond to treatment is not known to the physicians and every time Johnson has attempted any activity a slight fever has developed and sent him

Made 8-to-5 Favorite: Winner Gets Chance at Loughran.

Pole Who Once Floored Champ Has Edge in Experience.

NEW YORK, March 29 (A.P.).—Two of the youngest of the light-heavyweights—Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, Wash., and Joe Sekyra, of Dayton. Ohio—will battle ten rounds in Madison Square Garden tomorrow for a right to a title match with Loughran. Once before the rugged Pole from Washington unleashed his winging right hand on the champion, twice in the first round Lomski smote Tommy on the chin and floored hi. for counts of nine. Loughran got up each time, however, outboxing and outthinking the challenger to win the following flourieen rounds and retain the title.

Somorrow night, experience will ride with Lomski and betters have made him an 8-to-5 favorite.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 29.—
The Nationals today discovered why bats were made and, applying this knowledge, had little trouble in beating the Jacksonville Southeastern Leaguers. The final count was 12 to 6. The victory was a costly one, however, as Bob Reeves injured his right knee when he collided with Pitcher Dave McKinney's head in the fifth uning and is likely to be out of action for several days.

Gillis, with three singles; Bluege, with two triples, and Sisler with a single and double, led the Nationals with the fielding feature when he took Echarn's bunt while on the dead run and made the killing at first.

Bunt while on the dead run and made the killing at first Fred Marberry and Clarence Griftin pitched for the Nats, with Dave Mc-Kinney, southpaw; Bill Holland and "Tige" Stone flinging for the aliens.

After both teams had gone down in order in the opening (rame, & three-base error by Clabaugh gave the Nationals a start in the next frame, the right fielder missing Goslin's easy fly, Bluege sacri-ficed the "Goose" home.

Each team scored three times in the third. Another error by Clabaugh lett Marberry advance a base on his single and after Barnes had coaxed a pass. Reeves triple both home, scoring himself on Goslin's sacrifice fly. Marberry suddenly weakened in the home half and had an embarrassing few minutes when Bourg singled and stole second and Gallego's tripled. Collins successfully negotiated a "squeeze play." and Clabaugh came through with a lusty triple to the fence in deep left.

A triple by Bluege and Gillis' single gave the Nats another marker in the fourth, while they brought their total to an even half a dozen in the fifth, which Barnes opened with a one-baser through the low. Each team scored three times in the

with the squad now pruned to 29 players, and with the promise made that there will be no more cuts for some time, most of the players look upon the present visit in the nature of an "old home" celebration.

The Birmingham graduates are pitchers Hadley, Wells and Van Alstinge, while Brown, Griffin and Burkehave played in the same league and in fielders Gillis and Hayes and Outfielders West, Barnes, Ganzel and Kloza The former Nationals who are now taking orders from Chief Baron Dobbs are Pitchers Bill Morrel and Luther Roy, Catcher Albert Cooper, Outfielder Melburn Simons and Infielders Mule Shirley, Stuffy Stewart and Earnest Engine in the box as long as they go well, the only exceptions being the same of the peak in the excitement A thirderro by Clabaugh gave Goolin life, and the pitcher was carried him his knee.

McKinney later responded to Trainer Martin's first-aid treatment, but Holland releved him on the hill. Barnes took third on the play and tallied on Sister's single to right. Goslin followed with another safety, but Sisier was out trying to make third on the cloud.

Bluege led off the sixth with another triple, but expired where his own efforts carried him, while Griffin, who called the pitcher starting two hits.

The Nats touched off some more fireworks in the eighth, pounding Holland off the peak in the executement A thirderro by Clabaugh gave Goslin life, and the pitcher was carried from the field unconscious, while Reeves was forced to retire because of a swelling in his knee.

McKinney later responded to Traine Martin first-aid unconscious, while Reeves was forced to retire because of a swelling in tyne, while Brown, Griffin and Burke have played in the same league and in fielders Gillis and Hayes and Outfielders West, Barnes, Ganzel and Kloza The former Nationals who are now taking orders from Chief Baron Dobbs are Pitchers Bill Morrel and Luther Roy, Catcher Albert Cooper, Outfielder Meiburn Simons and Infielders Mule Shirley, Stuffy Stewart and Earnest Smith on the peak in the extendent a find error by Clabaugh gave Goslin life; and then in rapid order came a single by West, a pass to Bluege, a single by Gil-lis and a two-base hit by Tate. Later in the inning Griffin singled and Sisjer doubled, while Stone, who relieved Hol-land, uncorked a wild pitch. Six*runs resulted.

The Tars got half of these runs back in their portion of the frame without the need of a hit. Griffin, celebrating because of his hit, issued passes, with utter abandon. Four of these, plus a wild pitch and an error by Kloza, who relieved Bluege at third, did the damage. Neither team scored in the ninth.

VICTORIAN.

"Big store" operators stand to be mulcted to the extent of $300,000 in the event of victory in the Kentucky Derby by this fine colt from the stable of Harry Payne Whitrey. So quietly were wagers slipped here and there and everywhere that $10,000 was placed right on the old beezer at odds of 30 to 1. In the early "winter book" speculation Victorian opened at 15 to 1, but the report got abroad that he had not wintered well and he soared to 30 to 1. It was then that the "dirty work" started. Some of the bookies are posting 12 to 1 against Victorian now, others 10 to 1, while a majority are closed.

30 Hazardous Jumps Beset Grand National Field Today

Many Obstacles Gain Fame in Tripping Contenders-"Canal Turn" Sees Many Come to Grief in Water-No American Winner.

By CHARLES A. WATSON.

By CHARLES A. WATSON.

PORTSMEN throughout the civilezed world today will focus their eyes on Aintree, near Liverpool, England, for the running of the Grand National Steeplechase, recognized by horsemen as a super test for horse and rider, over a hazardous 4½-mile course. There will be many Americans among the 300,000 who will view the classic this year as a result of the interest created by the presence of the list of thirteen American-owned jumpers, two of which are Americar bred, Billy Barton, owned by Howard Bruce, of Baltimore, and Byrgoright, belonging to B. L. Behr, the Pennsylvania millionaire.

tree Grand National is the oldest steeplechase in England, where the first event was held in 1839. In 1866, the race was run under the newly-formed rules of steeplechasing, which still re-main in vogue.

event was held in 1839. In 1866, the race was run under the newly-formed rules of steeplechasing, which still remain in vogue.

There is no record of an American-breb horse ever winning the Grand National, but the event has been won by American owners of English-bred fencers. Sergeant Murphy, a six-time participant, owned by Stephen Sanford, won the event in 1923, and Jack Horner, the property of A. C. Schwartz, returned the winner in 1926.

The course over which the timbertoppers are asked to travel numbers fifteen fences and a water jump. All except the water jump and one other obstacle must be cleared twice in the course of the race, making a total of 30 jumps in all.

One of the most difficult jumps to be negotiated is known as "Canal Turn," a hazard which has caused many horses to come to grief in bygone races. When the jumpers have cleared the fence at this point and have reached the other side in safety, they are forced to turn practically at right angles immediately, for 50 yards beyond the jump is the bank of the canal into whose water many riders and horses plunge, who fail to make the turn in time.

Another noted obstacle is a jump containing an oney of the fore twice in 1928.

commander R. S. Doyle, of the Capital Name that Yach Club, yesterday announced the following appointments for the season of 1928.

Fleet capital, H. A. Willard; fleet surgeon, Dr. Thomas E. Latimer; auditing committee on soon to straddle the barrier and stay there to watch the onrush of the other entrants.

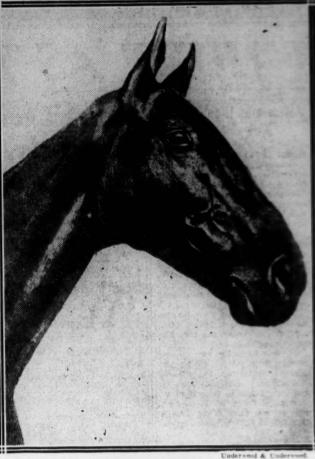

a natural brook on the far side 5 feet 6 inches wide, with a drop of 6 feet after the jumpers are over.

Most of the horses running in the classic go down at this point for the Jump calls for a mighty leap. Racegoers who are accustomed to witnessing the race at Liverpool year after year still recall the great leap of Chandler in 1848, when he cleared a struggling mass of Jockeys and horses, the leap being measured by some of those who witnessed it from close quarters and found to be 37 feet.

other entrants.

Becher's Brook Jump is another stumbling block in the path of the timbertoppers. The jump comprises a fence committee. Daniel H. Fowler, chairman; 3, W. Entrants F. Domes, Material F. Domes, Market P. Domes, Ma

TRACKMEN'S SELECTIONS

"Big store" operators stand to be muleted to the extent of $300,000 in the event of victory in the Kentucky Derby by this fine colt from the stable of Harry Payne Whitrey. So quictly were wagers slipped here and there and everywhere that $10,000 was placed right on the old beezer at odds of 30 to 1. In the early "winter book" speculation Victorian opened at 15 to 1, but the report got abroad that he had not wintered well and he soared to 30 to 1. It was then that the report got abroad that he had not wintered well and he soared to 30 to 1. It was then that the "dirty work" started. Some of the bookles are posting 12 to 1 against Victorian now, others 10 to 1, while a majority are closed.

Bowle presents a scene of activity as trainers are putting their mayericks through final "preps"

30 Hazardous Jumps Beset Grand National Field Today

By CHARLES A. WATSON. By CHARLES A. WATSON.

SPORTSMEN throughout the civilized world today will focus their eyes on Aintree, near Liverpool, England, for the running of the Grand National Steeplechase, recognized by horsemen as a super test for horse and rider, over a hazardous 4½-mile cquirse. There will be many Americans among the 900,000 who will view the classic this year as a result of the interest created by the presence of the list of thirteen American-owned Jumpers, two of which are American-bred, Billy Barton, owned by Howard Bruce, of Baltimore, and Burgoright, belonging to B. L. Behr, the Pennsylvania millionaire.

The Grand National is the oldest steeplechase in England, where the first-event was held in 1859. In 1866, the race was run under the newly-formed rules of steeplechasing, which still re-main in young.

There is no record of an Ameri-There is no record of an American-bred horse ever winning the tirand National, but the event has been won by American owners of English-bred fehreers. Sergeant Murphy, a six-time participant, owned by Stephen Santord, won the event in 1923, and Jack Horner, the property of A. C. Schwartz, returned the winner in 1926.

The course over which the timber-The course over which the timber-toppers are asked to travel numbers fifteen fences and a water jump. All except the water jump and one other obstacle must be cleared twice in the course of the race, making a total of

Most of the horses running in the chaste go down at this point for the jump calls for a mighty leap. Racegoers who are accustomed to witnessing the race at Liverpool year after year still recall the great leap of Chandler in 1848, when he cleared a struggling mass of jockeys and horses, the leap being measured by some of those who witnessed it from close quarters and found to be 37 feet.

The water jump has a width of 18 feet with a fence 2 feet 8 inches on the take-off side, and, although not many horses fail at this jump, it nevertheless calls for a supereffort to clear this obstacle.

Every starter contributes 50 pounds

One of the most difficult jumps to be negotiated is known as "Camid Turn." A hazard which has caused many horses to come to grief in bygons races. K. of C. Five Makes Bid for Title in Charity Game Tonight.

THE Knights of Columbus Basket-ball Team will make a determined bid for the District court title tonight, when it meets the champion Anacostis Eagles at 8 o'clock at the Arcada in a game which is played for the benefit of the St Ann's. Orphan Asylum.

Ever since they were defeated by the Eagles several weeks ago in the Congress Heights gymnasium by a margin of 8 points, the Caseys have been eager for another chaines at the Anacostia Team's triumphant sway among local independent teams.

However, the Caseys are considerably stronger at present than when they last played the Eagles. In Nee, Keppel, Morris and Cappelli, the Knights are fortified with a quartet of keen shots from all angles of the court.

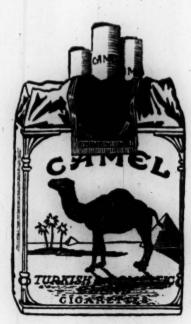

Capt. Joe Sweeney and Paper, former University of Maryland star, are the big threats of the Eagle Team. This pair has been responsible for most of the Anacostia Team's points this season. Raiph Bennie, who got off to a late start because of an injury at the beginning of the basketball season, wanother vital factor in the Eagles' attack. Clark, at center, Thompson and Streeks, at guards, will probably comprise the rest of the Eagle line-up.

Action will start at 7 o'clock in a preliminary attraction between the Knights of Columbus Senior Team and the Waltz A. C.

Auth's Defend New Spirit Marks Braves For Higher Place in 1928; Hornsby Is Chief Addition

By PAUL H. SHANNON
(Basebuil Expert, Boston Post).

T. PETERSBURG, Pla., March 29.—If team spirit means anything in major league basebail—and there are many who still contend that team spirit mostly won a world's championship for a mediocre Boston National League club in 1914—then these same Braves, footballs for the Heydler organisation during the several past seasons, seem destined to stage a designed contact of the several past seasons, seem destined to stage a designed contact of the several past seasons. during the several past seasons, seem destined to stage a decided comeback during the several past seasons, seem destined to stage a decided comeback this year.

Already the scribes who flock to the Sunshine City every apring are commenting upon the changed demeanor of the tisually meek and lowly Braves, and this is not because of any startling change in the line-up.

Barring the acquisition of Rogers Hornsby, which gives the Braves a real second-baseman after years of weary waiting, and the deal for Third Baseman Lester Bell, the team is practically the same outfit that finished up the season of 1927 so disappointedly.

And yet there was no great necessity for rebuilding. For the last two sensons the Braves have had fine possibilities. Fans thapughout the country may easily recall the brilliant way in which the Boston team finished the schedule of 1926, knocking the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds in turn out of first place, and several times changing the entire complexion of the pernant race. per annum.

These generous terms fired Hornsby with enthusiasm which kindled a like spirit in the whole team. Eager to show his appreciation, Hornsby has been driving his associates, and Manager Slattery, a real psychologist, is pampering and encouraging the very men who often during last season were on the verge of revolt. Consequently narmony reigns and the urging of Hornsby has made the Braves believe that they are going to get somewhere.

There will be another shift in the Boston infield. Leater Bell, a consistent $800 hitter, will bolster the third-base position tremendously. Dick hanging the entire complexion of the

At this stage the Braves bousted one of the most effective pitching staffs in the league and a fair amount of batting strength. But the team went to the "dogs" last year. Under questionable management and worse coaching the pitching staff collapsed completely and the morale of the whole team was shattered.

It needed heroic methods to pull the worst-looking team in the league out of the ruck, and it was only by a change in managers and coaches that the club cwners were able to avert a complete destruction and save several still rapable veteran players from being railroaded to the minors.

When Jack Slattery was taken from a college-coaching position to succeed a college-coaching position to succeed the unlucky Bancroft, Boston fans felt at first that this was simply a case of jumping from the frying pan into the fire. Yet the resignation of Rudolph as coach and the appointment of Arthur Devlin in his stead convinced the skeptics that a new regime was to be in-augurated. Yet it took the coming of Rogers Hornsby to reswaken real base-ball enthurtasm in the old Hub and give the players reason to hope for better things.

By GLENNA COLLETT
(Former Woman's Champion).

Very few women make it a practice to play over eighteen holes of golf a day. This is done easily without overtaxing their atrength. Some women golfers, however, play 36 holes occasionally in order to acquaint themeslives with that length of play. This is done so that they will be prepared for such a game in case tournament play demands it Alzo, after playing 36 holes, the eighteen-hole round teems exceptionally short in comparison. This adds a certain amount of condidence to their game when playing the shorter course.

How Men Learned to Write X. ROMAN WEDDING.

THE ancient Greeks were active peo-ple, and many of them left their homeland to start colonies else-where. They settled on islands of the

The Greeks who went to Italy car ried the knowledge of writing with them. It so happened that their alphabet was not the standard one used in Greece after 400 B. C. The letters which they taught other persons in Italy were more like our own than those of the common Greek alphabet.

At an early time, the people of Etruria had learned Greek letters, and the knowledge was later given to the

The Etruscans used a system of dividing words by placing dots between them. Usually the dots were in pairs, and we should call them "colons." The Romans took that idea: but often. In place of the colons, they used small circles or triangles to separate their words. This system grew into one where blank spaces were used to divide words. The blank space idea seems simple to us, but it was not simple to the ancient people who gave us our writing.

The Romans improved the letters they received by making some of them curved and graceful. The Roman alphabet was almost the same as ours, but the letter "V" was used for the sounds of both "V" and "U." and 'I" was used for either the 'I' or "J" sounds.

Both the Greeks and Romans were in the habit of using a kind of slate—a small board with a coat of wax over the small board with a coat of wax over the surface! Writing was done on such "slates" by means of a stylus—a sharppointed piece of wood, metal or lyory. The stylus had a blunt end as well as a sharp end. The blunt end was used to "grase" the mistakes.

One more thing I must tell you before I close this series. The Egyptians and early Greeks wrote from right to left. We should oall that the "wrong" way; but after all, isn't it a matter of custom? The later Greeks changed the system and wrote from left to right.

Payment of Debt to Automobile Rental Firm Leads to His Arrest.

The bold $7,290 daylight holdup of two Federal American National Bank messengers three dags ago was conyesterday by Charles Asaph Rhodes, 21 years old, of 126 Fifth street the youth Wednesday night when hodes "flashed a roll," paid a debt to the concern and hired an expensive car for the evening. The suspicions were communicated to Renner.

Talks Freely of Hold-up.

After questioning, the youth freely confessed the robbery. He ascribed unemployment and desire to obtain money to attend school as the motive for the crime. Secreted in a brown paper wrapper and hidden in a chest in his room police found $5,500. In a wallet which dropped from his coat pocket while he, was dressing police found $900 more. A loaded 32-caliber revolver was also found in the room.

At the police station house Rhodes described the crime in detail. He said that for three weeks he had been following the bank messengers, Robert Morris, 19 years old, of Alexandria, Va., and Louis Fridinger, 20, of 718 L street northeast, to familiarize himself with their route and movements. He said he had used a "rent-a-car" automobile in the shadowing and had run up a debt with the automobile company.

He said he had used a "rent-a-car" automobile in the shadowing and had run up a debt with the automobile company.

Was Easy Job, He Says.

On Tuesday, he said, he had resolved to commit the robbery, which he described as "an easy job," so he borrowed a car from a friend and followed the bank messengers over their route. After Morris and Frindinger had driven Miss Vivian McDonald, 19 years old, of 615 Kennedy street northwest, Frindinger's flancee, to her place of employment, the Adams Telephone Exchange, at Fourteenth street and Columbia road northwest, Rhode said he approached the bank messengers at they were seated in the car.

Wahly Promises Protection.

Mr. Wahly assured the Texan that the board would do everything in its power to protect him from insult and indignity.

"He represents several hundred thousand people and is entitled to respect," Wahly added as B unton resumed his seat at the counsel table and shouted: "Let's go on with this case."

At times Blanton appeared to forget completely about Staples and the matter before the board. Several times he interrupted the proceedings to make impromptu speeches.

The prosecution rested its case about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the defense put on its first witness, asking that it have "at least two and a half days."

Again Blanton turned two of the prosecution's witnesses into witness for the defense. Inspector Louis J. Stoll, when they acknowledged themselves as messengers to a question from him. Rhodes said he leveled a revolver at them and relieved them of a handbag and wallt. He then ordered them to drive away and not to look back. They did.

It is possible that the trial may conclude this afternoon. Blanton said he expected to close his case this afternoon or providing Williams "did not waste too much time on insignificant questiondid.
